WELCOME SUMMER!

Five Interesting Facts About the 4th of July:

According to the American Pyrotechnics Association, Americans spend more than $1 billion on fireworks each year.

Out of this, only 10% of firework displays are set off professionally, which probably accounts for the estimated 12,900 firework-related emergency room visits across the country. According to Fortune Magazine, of those injuries occurring between June and July, almost 70% were experienced by men.

July 4th was not deemed a federal holiday until 1870, nearly 100 years after the nation was founded!
That is a lot of days off missed!

According to the National Sausage and Hot Dog Council (NHDSC), Americans are expected to eat 150 million hot dogs over the July 4th holiday. This is part of an estimated 7 billion that are expected to be eaten during the summer season from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

Thomas Jefferson, 82, and John Adams, 90, both died on July 4, 1826 within five hours of each other on the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. A bit of an odd coincidence!

How many of you own a flag t-shirt, beach towel, shorts, headband, or any other item that is representative of the U.S. flag?

Turns out that you're in violation of the U.S. Flag Code.

The U.S. Flag Code states that you are in violation if you sell or display any "article of merchandise... upon which shall have been printed, painted, attached, or otherwise placed a representation of [the flag... in order to] advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark, or distinguish the article or substance on which so placed."

That being said, in this instance, the Flag Code is not enforced or even enforceable, so don't worry - you won't get arrested by the Flag Police.
